CABINET OF BRIAND QUITS OFFICE

GOVERNMENT FALLS AFTER ADVERSE VOTE

Sales Tax Provision of Financial Bill Meets Defeat, 274 to 221, In Chamber of Deputies and French Premier And His Ministers Step Down.

CAILLAUX CONFERS WITH BRIAND.

PARIS, March 6.—(I. N. S.)—M. Joseph Caillaux conferred this afternoon with M. Briand, giving rise to rumors immediately that Caillaux may be the next premier. In responsible quarters the rumor is discounted because it is almost certain he would be unable to command a majority in the chamber.

Anatole Demonzie, former minister of public works, and Raoul Perret, former president of the chamber, are being discussed as possible premiers.

PARIS, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The cabinet of Aristide Briand has fallen Like five other ministeries in less than two years it was wrecked on the shoals of the government's plan to bring about the financial rehabilitation of France.

In the chamber of deputies early this morning the government made the sales tax provision of its financial bill a question of confidence It was defeated by a vote of 274 to 221, and immediately afterwards M Briand tendered the cabinet's resignation

During acrimonious debate in the night-long session, M Briand several times made fervent pleas that the members come to the aid of the government and pass the necessary measure to enable it to tide over the financial crisis Likewise Minister of Finance Doumer warned the deputies of the necessity for prompt and favorable action Louis Malvey, president of the chamber's finance committee, and M Lamoreux, the committee's reporter, scorned the members for what they have termed cowardice and base demogogy

Going To Geneva.

M Briand said that the chamber was not showing a sense of its responsibilities. If the financial bill were not passed, he said, he would not leave for Geneva to represent the country at the meeting of the council of the League of Nations. After resigning he said he would go to Geneva tonight, but not as an official.

"Taxes," he said, "are disagreeable things, but the country has plenty of good sense. If the reason is put clearly before it, if it is made to understand that it is taking out insurance against risks in the future, I am sure it will yield to those who show it its duties."

His speech, however, gained for him only the admiration of his auditors It did not serve to change their attitude of hostility against sales tax.

The sales tax had met bitter opposition from business. In Paris shopkeepers closed several hours in protest, even the bars doing no business

Resignation Accepted.

Shortly after the unfavorable vote M. Briand went to Elysee palace and presented the cabinet's resignation, which President Doumergue accepted

M. Briand had been in office

Howard was arrested in Omaha and is said to have admitted to police there the theft of a Ford car, belonging to John Albert of Lincoln, Monday evening. On the car police found two license plates belonging to another car which was stolen several weeks ago and later found stripped of five tires and the plates.

ZONING MAP WINS COUNCIL'S O. K.

Members of the city council can see no reason why there should be any major changes in the zoning of the city from those outlined by City Engineer Erickson in the "use" map which he prepared for the commissioners a few weeks ago.

The council made an extended trip over the city Friday and studied the localities affected, and even investigated the result of not including a large number of small stores in the provisions for business centers. They also made an extensive survey of the territory east of the city, which has petitioned to be taken inside the city limits and supplied with water, sewer and lights.

The general opinion of the commissioners was that Lincoln within the next few years will have three principal business districts. One will be the down town section, another South street from Sixth street through to Normal, and the third, Twenty-seventh street from O to Holdrege. South street will not be set out as a business district throughout its length in the ordinance when it is drafted, but there is an opinion that Twenty-seventh street should be.

ERROR IN HANDLING OF POLAND'S CLAIM

League Circles Point To Secret Pact Appearances —South America To Have More Seats If Council Enlarged.

GENEVA, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—"For the first time in the hitsory of the League of Nations Great Britain and France can do nothing. All the cards are in the hands of Germany."

This statement was made today by a personage in summing up the turmoil over the reconstruction of the council of the league, which is to come up at the sessions beginning next Monday and which has caused the greatest crisis in the Geneva institution since its birth.

This may be said to portray the present situation in the scramble for permanent seats in the council. It means that Germany, even before entering the league, has won the first skirmish in what is known here as her great peace offensive to be conducted through the instrumentality of the league.

With Germany sure to obtain admittance to the league, the present situation is taken to mean that Germany's consent must be obtained for any enlargement of the league council and in particular as regards the candidacy of Poland

Tactical Error Seen.

In league circles the opinion prevails that Germany's former enemies committed a tactical error in launching Poland's claim for a permanent seat under conditions which made it appear that there was a secret pact, calculated to undermine

BLAME MANIAC FOR SLAYINGS

San Jose, Cal., Police Search For "Dark Skinned" Man Thought to Have Strangled Two Women to Death —Two Others Attacked.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Baffled police and frightened housewives today are hoping for some clue to the identity of a maniac thought to have strangled two women to death and to have attempted to strangle two others.

Mrs. D. L. Currier was rendered insensible yesterday in a struggle with an intruder who attempted to strangle her with a strip torn from her dress. Her assailant was "dark skinned," Mrs. Currier said.

Mrs. Laura A. Beal was assaulted and strangled to death in an apartment here Tuesday. An "olive skinned," dark haired man was seen leaving the Beal apartment the day of the murder. The same description fits a man seen leaving the apartment of Miss Clara Newman, who was slain under almost identical circumstances in San Francisco February 20.

Mrs. Currier's report to the police followed a few hours after police were advised of an attempted assault upon Elsie Elkhs who was alone in a store within a half mile of Mrs. Currier's residence.

Small Gain In Gasoline Tax

An increase of $330 is shown in state gasoline tax payments by the first fifty-four dealers reporting for February, compared with their remittances for January. The gross amount collected from these dealers for February is $7,036. As there are about 450 licensees in the state, and none of the big firms have yet reported their February sales, this showing is not sufficient to indicate definitely whether the revenue will be greater or less in February than it was the preceding month.

The grand total of gasoline tax up to the end of January, during the first ten months of the law's operation, was $2,386,.72. Of this amount, $8,434 wa spaid back in refunds to agricultural users. The total number of refunds allowed was $1,249.

WARRANTS FOR POLICE ISSUED

Chief and Two Patrolmen at Passaic, N. J., Charged With Assault As Result of Woolen Mills Strike Disorders.

PASSAIC, N. J. March 6—(By the Associated Press)—Disorders in the woolen mills district during strike demonstrations have resulted in the issuance of warrants charging assault against Police Chief Richard Zober and two patrolmen.

The warrants were issued last night on complaint of the American Civil Liberties union The two patrolmen are charged with beating Mr. and Mrs. Victor Navroc, Clifton storekeepers. Chief Zober is accused of attacking John Budz of Clifton, after a strikers' mass meeting.

Four Passaic constables refused to serve the warrants and they were given to a constable from West Paterson, who failed to serve them last night.

Hopes for a settlement of the strike aroused by announcement of Governor Moore that he would be willing to act as arbitrator were dashed by Albert Weisbord, union organizer, who said the strikers were willing to accept the offices of mediators but were not willing to turn the decision over to a third party

Weisbord declared tha t 35,000 workers in Lawrence, Mass., and Paterson, N. J., are ready to join the 7,000 on strike here. He hopes that one million textile workers would be involved and that "one big union" will eventuate from the conflict.

Columbus Waltonians To Investigate Change In Game Warden's Office.

COLUMBUS, March 6—(AP)—Members of the Columbus chapter of the Izaak Walton league at their monthly meeting here unanimously passed a motion directing that a committee of one be appointed to endeavor to ascertain just why the resignation of J. C. Jenkins as state game warden was "requested by the state administration."

Waltonians declared if there was a good reason for the removal of the game warden the action of the state authorities would be approved, but "if it should be found that the action was taken because of pressure brought to bear by certain rich and influential men, then the Columbus Waltonians would accord Jenkins their unqualified support.

Charles L Dickey, president of the chapter, agreed to act as the committee of one and submit his findings at a later meeting.

CONGRESSMAN HOLDS NEW AID PLAN UNSOUND

House Agriculture Committee Chairman Says Newest Suggestion "Not Worth Paper It Is Written On" Because Ignores Protective Tariff.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new plan of farm relief presented by the middlewestern delegation appointed at the Des Moines agricultural conference was characterized by Chairman Haugen of the house agriculture committee, today as "not worth the paper it is written on" because it ignored the protective tariff.

William Hirth of Columbia, Mo., chairman of the farmers' committee, who was testifying before the committee assured Mr. Hagen that there was no intention to ignore the tariff It had not been mentioned in the legislative outline presented, he said, because it had been taken for granted, since existing laws were considered adequate

The chairman added that the Dickinson bill to collect from the farmers an equalization fee to finance surplus crops, would, by leaving the details of this assessment to various organizations, "simply set up a debating society."

"The substitute scheme which you now offer," he said, "would do the same thing."

Several members of the committee insisted that the delegation had submitted a plan too vague to constitute a bill.

After sharp debate over whether a complete measure would be required before hearings proceed, the committee meeting was adjourned until Monday with the question unsettled.

Want Permanent Solution.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(I. N. S.)—The agricultural west was knocking at the halls of congress today for a lasting, permanent solution of the surplus crop problem.

SATURDAY DRIVE NOT SANCTIONED

Community Chest Officials Provoked by Children's Home Tag Day.

The office of the council of social agencies was swamped with calls Saturday from business men and people in the residential districts making inquiry about a tag day solicitation under way in behalf of the Nebraska Children's Home Finding society

The organization is an Omaha institution and the tag day drive for funds was not endorsed by the Lincoln Community Chest, according to Secretary Louis Horne. He said that about two weeks ago the Lincoln representative appeared before the council and asked for an endorsement. Instead he was given a blank application and told to file it with the board. Nothing more was heard of the drive until the calls began to flood the office.

"We were doubly provoked," Secretary Horne said, "not only because the council and chest were disregarded but also because the promoters were using children to do the work That is something we always have and always will frown on."

Before noon, a majority of the stores in the business district had turned down the solicitors. This was also true of the office buildings.

The society was denied a permit to solicit two years ago, according to Mr. Horne.

WILBUR M'KAY IS STILL AT LARGE

Officers Fail To Locate Man Who Jumped Handcuffed From Train.

McCOOK, Neb., March 6.—(AP)—Wilbur McKaKy, dubbed "Slippery Bill" after he eluded officers for the fifth time, is still at large and proving an enigma to southwestern Nebraska authorities. It had been erroneously reported that he was captured at Indianola.

Last heard of the fugitive was at the Billy Proctor home at Indianola where he was given a meal. They did not know he was being hunted, they said.

"Slippery Bill" got away when he jumped to a crowded depot platform from a train at Cambridge, Neb. He filed the chain between his wrists, and the locked cuffs had been slipped up his wrist to be concealed under his coat sleeves, it is believed, as the Proctors failed to notice any discomfort of his hands.

McRay is wanted on a white slave charge.

HOUSE TAKES UP REORGANIZING OF FEDERAL FORCES

Committee Studies Administration Program For Dry Enforcement.

Andrews Says Separate Bureau Would Pay For Self In Six Months.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—An administration program for sweeping reorganization of the government's enforcement activities was taken up Friday by the house ways and means committee, while wets and drys continued their charges and counter accusations against each other.

Creation of a separate prohibition bureau in the treasury department, as provided in a bill drafted by Representative Crampton, republican, Michigan, was urged before the committee as an immediate "essential step" toward effective enforcement.

On the floor of the house misrepresentation was charged by both sides of the controversy. Representative Griffin, democrat, New York, urging modification of the Volstead act and scoring the Anti-saloon league, said it should be called the "Total Abstinence league." Representative Stevenson, democrat, South Carolina, attacked the New York member's appeal for modification on the basis of personal liberty as "high strung hypocrisy," citing Mr. Griffin's vote in favor of the proposed child labor amendment.

Andrews Sends Out Order.

Meanwhile Astistant Secretary Andrews' office sent an order to prohibition administrators throughout the country, announcing organization of special squads of experts to cope with the industrial alcohol diversion situation, which, he said, "is one of our biggest problems in the area east of the Ohio and north of the Potomac."

The treasury department has gone as far as it can in centralizing its activities until "regularizing" legislation is enacted, Secretary Andrews told the ways and means committee. There can be no hope of efficient administration, he said, so long as the present organization stands. A separate bureau, he predicted, would obtain sufficient revenues in penalties from bootleggers to pay for its expenses in six months.

Says Task Too Big.

His present task of co-ordinating three units engaged in various phases of enforcement work is "too big for one man," he continued, "urging bureau status also for the coast guard and customs services." The prohibition bureau, he said, should have control of border patrols and of the issuance of permits for whisky withdrawals in order to prevent "leakage."

States and local governments must relieve the federal government of much of the "police work." Representative Crampton said, but he thought this should not go so far as to allow lack of responsibility in one section to destroy the effectiveness of the national program.

COSTIGAN DENIES DELAYED REPORT

Tariff Commission Members Says Not Delaying Butter Findings.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Charges by members of congress, attributing responsibility for delay in the tariff commission's report on its butter investigation to E. P. Costigan, minority member of that agency, were emphatically contradicted by him in a letter read to the house Friday by Representative Cooper, republican, Wisiconsin.

Representative Wood, republicane Indiana, referred to him Tuesday during a discussion of the butter report as "on the commission for no other purpose than to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery. As suggested by Mr. Brand, democrat, Georgia, the majority of the commission is ready to report. But the minority gentleman has a right to file his views. He is holding it up.

"I have no hesitation in mentioning his name. I mean Mr. Costigan and if he has any respect for himself, for the position that he occupies or the people of the United States whom he is supposed to serve, he would resign before tomorrow night."

When informed by Representative Knutson, republican, Minnesota, that the report had been made on the preceding Saturday, Mr. Wood said:

"I am glad to be informed that they have made the report. I knew that it was ready and was being held up by Costigan."

Such statements, Mr. Costigan's letter declared, re "direct misstatements of fact." "I have never understood some of the reasons for delay in the butter investigation," he wrote. "I have been ready for months to report."

WASHINGTON, March 6. — (AP) —The number of alien immigrants admitted to the United States during January was nearly double the number that departed. The department of labor reported Friday that 29,733 aliens were allowed to enter while 15,801 left. Of those admitted 19,072 planned to establish permanent residence while 1,661 were visitors. A otal of 1,662 aliens were denied admission during the month.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Evidence seeking to prove that Mrs. Mayme Hodge, now held by LaCrosse, Wis., police, is the Mrs. Mae Reynolds wanted in connection with the death of Rev. Knute Birkeland, will form the basis of the state's argument for extradition of the woman to Minnesota, it was said by state authorities here last night.

Today

Dear Old Wall St.
Europe, Asia, Africa.
Temporal Power.
Brennan's Balloon.

By Arthur Brisbane.

Old Wall street abandoned tantrums and hysteria yesterday. Little dead lambs, neatly shorn, were swept out to make room for more, and prices bobbed up. "Plus" signs shone on the ticker, thick as dandelions in spring. Mr. Livermore, one earnest young red-headed bear, is supposed to have made at least a million in a day or so. Other bears made other millions.

Secretary Mellon knows more about business than all the gamblers of Wall street put together, and he says the "shakeup" has been good for real business. It makes men think more about constructive work, less about gambling.

So everything is serene, from the church at the top of Wall street to the East river dock at the bottom.

While we worry about our imitation panic or rejoice over Wall street's recovery, Europe, Asia and Africa are busy as usual.

Emmeline Pankhurst returns to lead the woman's movement in England. That will not be dull. Lady Astor, young American woman, offered to Mrs. Pankhurst her seat in the commons. It was declined.

Even the most peaceful of nations can't thrive with no central government or real governing power. With civil war menacing all China, Japan would be glad to take charge, supplying order and direction. But Chinese hate Japanese even more than they hate the British. That is England's good fortune. Where she rules Asiatics they hate each other more than they hate her, and no combined attack is made against her.

The Japanese fear that if they can't lead China to her destiny, whatever that may be, the Russian bolsheviki will take charge. That would worry Japan and western Europe. If Russia could produce such a man as Peter the Great and give him China's 400,000,000 people, the raw material, he could do things. Peter knew how to wait and learn.

Not even Japan adopted western ways as swiftly as did Peter.

Ida Rubenstein, Russian actress, appears in a new play by d'Annunzio called "The Martyrdom of St Sebastian," and Catholics have been forbidden by the Vatican to attend the play. Recently d'Annunzio celebrated his birthday, with many honors from Mussolini's government, and it was planned to arrange for him a special audience with the pope. The pope declined to grant the audience.

The government of Italy officially takes all temporal power from the pope, outside the walls of the Vatican.

But there is another power of which the pope cannot be deprived by temporal government, and it is a very considerable power.

Politicians are interested in Mr. George Brennan, democratic boss of Chicago, who will run for the United States senate. Tammany Hall, making an exception, will wander 900 miles from its own fireside to Chicago's "loop" to do what can be done for its good friend, Brennan, spending money and demonstrating its political efficiency for Mr. Brennan.

The latter, who speaks French as fluently as he does Italian, says his campaign will be un Ballon d'Esai, for Governor Al Smith's presidential campaign. The theory is that Illinois' great demonstration for Brennan will convince democratic delegates that Brennan's friend, Governor Smith, would sweep the country.

Wall street flurries don't hurt big people or big institutions. In the midst of the financial hysterics New York's National City bank bought the People's Trust company, paying more than $16,000,000 for it and now has resources of more than 1,200 millions.

Owners of the trust company got $835 a share for stock that originally cost $100, so everybody is happy.

As for little lambs, swept overboard by the bear raid, they will go to work now, and perhaps that will be better for them. Stock gambling is nervous work, not meant for everybody, and it adds nothing to real wealth.

Students to Write Basketball News for Home Papers

Students in the University of Nebraska school of journalism are going to send detailed local stories on the sixteenth annual basketball tournament, March 11-13, to Nebraska home-town papers. On the 1924 tournament they sent 60,000 words to 128 papers; last year, when the tournament was smaller, 37,000 words to 62 papers. The newspapers usually displayed these tournament stories under the name of the student correspondent.

"The primary purposes of this work," said Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the school, "are to be of service to the newspapers and to give the students practical training in getting and writing news. To cover all the papers in the 338 or more towns represented by teams will, of course, be impossible, but we shall do the best we can."

A tournament correspondence bureau has been organized. The students will work under the supervision of instructors and of several picked seniors and juniors. The office of the bureau is University Hall 105, where a bank of typewriters has been installed.

AGAINST CHANGE IN PROHIB LAW

Methodist Pastors and Laymen Endorse Dry Act At Meeting Here.

Compulsory Military Training In Public Schools Is Condemned.

Resolutions opposing any change or compromise on the prohibition law, and demanding the abolition of compulsory military education in public schools were passed Friday afternoon by Methodist ministers and laymen of the Lincoln and Beatrice districts, meeting at the St. Paul Methodist church here.

The meeting was conducted by a "team" which is arranging for similar sessions all over this territory. Members of the team are Dr. G. V. Johnson, a secretary of the national board of temperance, Bishop F. T. Keeney, Dr. Hollingshead of Chicago, connected with the World Service commission, Dr. W. L. Davidson of the Illinois Wesleyan university and Dr. J. W. E. Bowen of Atlanta, colored preacher and editor of prominence.

The main subject of the sessions was the world service program of the church, which includes educational work, benevolences, and missions.

Dr. Davidson, the principal speaker during the afternoon, talked on "Methodist Colleges."

The day of the small college is coming and not going. Dr. Davidson declared. Schools have grown too big and many educators are realizing that the smaller institutions have great advantages. Besides educating its students broadly, the Christian college must emphasize godly life, teach the Bible and have Christian teachers, he said. On these grounds, he recommended Nebraska Wesleyan.

Dr. Bowen took for his subject, "The works that I do shall ye do also, and greater works."

There must be no little body of alien Africans in the American republic, he declared, nor must there be alien white men among the blacks. All are Americans now as all have adopted the Anglo-Saxon ideal of decency, honesty, family life and spiritual striving.

ROOSEVELT MAY MAKE RACE AGAIN

Friends Want Young Teddy To Seek N. Y. Governorship.

NEW YORK, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.) — The political atmosphere here is charged with speculation as to what effect the return of Theodore Roosevelt from his trip to Asia and the candidacy of George E. Brennan for United States senator from Illinois, will have on the approaching presidential and New York gubernatorial campaigns.

Intimations that Mr. Brennan's candidacy might be a prelude to a campaign by Governor Smith for the democratic nomination in 1928, or that the governor would go to Illinois to campaign for the man who supported him in 1924 were met by a disclaimer from Governor Smith in Albany Thursday.

"If any such arrangements have been made I don't know anything about them," he said.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt are reported to see in his return an opportune time to begin a campaign for his nomination by the republicans for the office of which he was defeated at the last election by Governor Smith. Mr. Roosevelt, however, has declined to comment on politics.

Charges Bankers Drove St. Paul Road Into Bankruptcy

CHICAGO, March 6.—(A. P.)—Serious charges were made against Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City bank and the directors of the bankrupt Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad Friday in the plea of Nathan L. Miller, former governor of New York, that the bondholders defense committee be permitted to become a party to the bankruptcy proceedings in the court of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Mr. Miller denied that the railroad was bankrupt when Judge Wilkerson was called upon to act on an involuntary petition last March 18, and asserted that the proceedings were forced by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and the National City bank and "the puppets of these bankers, the directors of the St. Paul railway."

He said he declined to use the word "conspiracy" but he gave the court a legal definition of it in connection with his accusation against the New York banks and the road's directors.

He said that there were false statements made in the petition "and we are ready to present evidence that Mr. Byram knew they were not true."

H. E. Byram was president of the railroad company prior to bankruptcy and is one of the federal receivers.

Dold Packing Co., Interests Bought For $20,000,000

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 6.—(AP) —The extensive Dold Packing interests passed into new hands Friday when the sale of 18,000 shares of common stock of the Jacob Dold Packing Co., to Edwin C. Andrews, of Buffalo, was approved in surrogate's court. Executors of the estate of Jacob Dold announced that it was necessary to convert the common stock into cash for proper distribution among the heirs.

The deal is said to have involved $20,000,000.

The Dold concern was considered the fifth largest of its kind in the country. The present policies of the company will be continued by the new owners, it was announced.

MAN HUNT FOR CATTLE RUSTLER

Chase After Colorado "Bad Man" Recalls Cassidy Gang of Old West.

MONTROSE, Colo., March 6. — (By the Associated Press.) — A spectacular man hunt, which vividly recalls the days of the old west, was carried on here Friday as the aftermath of a shooting affray Thursday between Ed Williams, "bad man" and convicted cattle rustler, and Dick Freel, a neighbor. Under-Sheriff Roy Roatcap and Deputy Clyde Williams left here Thursday night to gather a posse and round up the fugitive, "dead or alive."

Roatcap and his men had 100 miles to travel to Dry Creek Basin, where Williams lives on a ranch, and near where the rustler is alleged to have shot Freel through the wrist and then beaten him unconscious in a quarrel over horses. Reports indicate that Williams has either barricaded himself with his wife in his ranch house or has fled to the wild retreats of the Blue mountains.

The chase through the Blue mountains, once the retreat of the notorious "Butch" Cassidy, recalls the depredations of that outlaw who, a quarter of a century ago, brought the governors of four states into conference on sending armed forces into the region to rout the desperado.

Conceded to have been the leader of the greatest organized band of criminals in frontier history, Cassidy, whose real name was George Parker, commanded a band estimated at from 50 to 300. The outlaws preyed upon the cattle herds, robbed banks and trains and finally became so bold that the Union Pacific was forced to run its trains under heavy guard through southern Wyoming and northern Utah.

Huge Oil Combine Forms Under Name Of Tidewater Firm

NEW YORK, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—One of the largest consolidations in the history of the American oil industry Friday brought together the Associated and Tidewater Oil companies with total assets of more than $240,000,000. The two organizations will be combined under a new corporation—the Tidewater Associated Oil company — formation of which was overseen by Blair & Co., Inc., and the Chase Securities corporation of New York.

In addition to nationwide operations covering the Pacific coast, mid-continent and Atlantic seaboard territories, the new company will fall heir to an export business assuring it a strong position in the international field. Additional acquisitions are foreshadowed by its charter which grants the company powers to purchase the securities by other corporations.

DEATH PENALTY INSISTED UPON

County Attorneys Deprecate Effort to Abolish It In Nebraska.

Attention Called To Number Of Murders In State In Ten Years.

FREMONT, Neb., March 6.—(AP) — Resolutions condemning any movement for the abolishment of capital punishment in Nebraska were adopted by the Nebraska county attorneys association here last night.

The principal resolution which was introduced by Charles E. Matson of Lincoln, declared "we hereby unanimously endorse and approve the present statute providing the death penalty for premeditated murder and murder committed in robbery, which we believe to be to the best interest of the state for the protection of the lives of innocent, men, women and children; we disapprove the actions of misguided sentimentalists who resent the state exacting the life of a murderer, but who suffer no sharp sensibility when the murderer takes the life of his victim."

In the resolution, 17 legislative acts and proposed actions were also approved.

"During the ten years from 1915 to 1925, there were 429 murders in the state of Nebraska," Bert M. Hardenbrook of Ord, president of the association, declared in an address, "and only four of the murderers paid the supreme penalty, 74 were sentenced to life imprisonment and the remainder was given lesser terms in prison."

He asserted that criminals were deterred by fear of the law and that more severe punishment and quicker justice should be meted out.

"Crimes are increasing ten times as fast as the population in Nebraska," Charles E. Matson, the principal speaker, said. "The only way to curb crime is to impose more severe penalties. This rapid increase is threatening the welfare of society."

He advocated that criminal cases should be given more leeway in preference to civil cases in the courts.

Potato Growers Asked to Watch Acreage Closely

(Associated Press.)

Potato growers in Nebraska should keep close watch on the acreage of potatoes being planted by competing sections during the coming season, the state and federal division of agricultural statistics reported today. Many growers who made unusual profits from the 1925 crop seem unduly optimistic regarding the returns to be expected this season, the report said.

The past season has been profitable for commercial potato growers in this state. The prevailing high prices were due to the failure of the farm crop in the state and a 7 per cent cut in acreage along with a 24 per cent decline in production for the country as a whole. It is pointed out that a 7 per cent increase in acreage for 1926 would equal the acreage harvested in 1924 when, on account of abnormally high yields, many more potatoes were produced than could be marketed and returns fell below competing crops.

An acreage increase of 10 per cent for the United States and a yield of 110 bushels per acre would produce a crop of 377 million bushels, which is about the average production for the past ten years.

If, however, the acreage is increased as much as 20 per cent as it was following the short crop of 1916, a yield of 110 bushels per acre would mean a crop of 411 million bushels which is the equivalent of 3.55 bushels per capita. During the last 15 years such a crop has, in nearly every case, reduced returns from potatoes sufficiently below competing crops to cause a reduction in acreage the following year.

It follows, the report said, that with present conditions no farmer can afford to plant a greatly increased acreage of potatoes without observing closely the trend being taken by other producers. The division of statistics plans to issue a report on acreages of potatoes.

SMALLER TOWNS OUT FOR SPECIAL

Oakland Has Second Highest Registration; Total to Date Is 24,533.

By F. A. Good.

(Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Representative)

Oakland's registration of 3,413 was the second highest attained by the Nebraska poultry ispecia thus far. Orchard is first with 3,970. Fremont added 1,588 to the count, bringing up the record to a total of 24,533. That folks living in the larger cities are not largly interested is evidenced by the small attendance at Fremont.

At 3:15 a. m. the train quietly slipped out of Fremont, and when a fine day dawned again, we were in Schuyler, holding the main line tracks. Far up Main street the rattle of drums and shrill of fifes soon brought the personnel of the special out to enjoy the music, get a whiff of ozone and absorb a few ultra violet rays.

Up at the Colfax county court house, where the town people assembled, there was a display of a number of plates of eggs both white and brown, and Professor Mussehl was soon busy judging them.

The opportunity of window display was overlooked in Schuyler, except a fine exhibit in the store of Lafsky & Gershun. Here, a live hen, Queen Consluke had been assigned quarters. On one side of her had been assembled the separate items making up the rations that a hen like Queen should eat, and then converted into the finished product, eggs. Will Maupin talked to the schools and the pupils were soon started through the exhibit cars. After an hour of demonstration at the court house, the meeting adjourned to fall in line at the train entrance. The exhibits were viewed by 3,055.

Schuyler ships out about sixty cars of flour and feed per month. Fifty to sixty cars of hogs are also shipped from here every month.

There is an imposing shaft in front of the new court house bearing a great bronze plate in honor of those who did military service in the late war.

Oswell Lohr was chairman of the local committee at Wahoo, and he had the band at the depot to honor the arrival of the special. P. A. Adams, superintendent of schools, was another active member. While the meeting was being held we fell into the arms of D. R. Phelps, ex-president of the Nebraska Retail lumbermen's association. We rode with him over the paved streets and beyond. There is a nine-hole golf course, the Swedish Lutheran college with about 200 students, the Central Construction Co. with about an acre or more of big concrete sewer tile, the Nebraska Culvert and Manufacturing Co., the Nebraska Assembly Co., the Wahoo Produce Co., the Wahoo Hatchery The three big batteries are charged with 60,000 eggs and they are refilled five to six times a year. There are two big stores with stocks of general merchandising, and we met the proprietors of each, and the prosperious bankers as well.

During the war, the unpaved business streets of Wahoo became mud. Workmen were not to be had, so the business men paved it themselves, after hours, and we heard a rumor that blue laws were suspended, and the work went along on Sundays as well.

E. E. Good of the Supreme Court and Lawyer B. F. Good, as well, came to Lincoln from Wahoo.

Wahoo is a well-kept town, and for an onld town has a large proportion of up-to-date homes. It is the county seat of Saunders county. Cars licensed No. 6 are at home here. A big free feed by the business men was tendered the multitude.

Of special interest to the personnel of the special was this feature. There are 33,000 chickens living in Saunders county, which is the state record.

Historical Society Has Scrapbook of Late W. J. Connell

Mrs. I. M. Raymond, Jr., has loaned to the Nebraska State Historical society library a scrap book made by her father, the late W. J. Connell of Omaha. It contains accounts of one of his early political battles which he says was "one of the great events of my life and which to me remains as a most pleasing reminiscence."

In the fall of 1888 Mr. Connell, then city attorney of Omaha, was nominated by the republicans of the First congressional district of Nebraska for representative in congress and he was elected by a plurality of 3,400. J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska City was the democratic candidate. In 1892 Mr. Connell was renominated, but was defeated by William Jennings Bryan.

The scrap bok now in the possession of the state historical society is composed of clippings regarding Mr. Connell's campaign and is of much historical value, and is greatly prized by his family. Under date of June 7, 1924, Mr. Connell autographed the book and dedicated it to "my children and grandchildren and their descendants. For future generations so long as my name is known nad honored by them."

Mr. Connell arrived in Omaha April 10, 1867, and commenced his law studies with E. E. B. Kennedy. Later he was associated with Col. C. Chase, and afterwards with J. M. Woolworth. He was admitted to the bar in 1870. In 1872 he was elected district attorney for the Third district which then embraced ten counties, including Douglas and Lancaster. He was reelected in 1875. He accumulated a large property and was always recognized as a public spirited and liberal man. He advanced steadily in his profession and for many years was known as the most successful member of the Omaha bar.

The professional man, lawyer, doctor, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation received from professional services. The farmer must report as gross income the proceeds of sales or exchange of products raised on the farm or whether purchased by him and resold. Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain deductions for business, expenes, losses, bad debt, contributions, etc. To take full advantage of the deductions to which entitled taxpayers should read carefully the instructions on the form under the heads of "Income from business or profession."

A BAN ON MERGERS.

Two decisions of far-reaching importance in connection with recent industrial mergers have been handed down.

The first, wherein the interstate commerce commission refused to approve the consolidation program contemplated by the Van Sweringen brothers, made its influence felt on the stock market within a very few hours. Just how far the interstate commerce commission intends to go in its decision in the Nickel Plate merger has not been definitely indicated. This much has been established. The commission itself suggests the merger would be in the interest of transportation economy and efficiency. Four interlinking systems, unable at this time to serve the territory which they traverse to the fullest extent, would be united into one powerful system. Presumably the single management would permit of certain economies, and certain operating advantages which would be of immense value to the public.

Notwithstanding this the commission has said "no" to the proposed merger because it believes the organization and financing costs are excessive. That may be taken in two ways. Either the commission feels that the rights of the small stockholders in the various companies were not properly protected in the merger plan, or it believes that the financing plan would place a burden upon the public which it should not be called upon to assume. In any event the result is the same. In effect the governmental agency has established a precedent which rejects any rail merger which may directly or indirectly result in a sacrifice of public interest or which jeopardizes the position of the hundreds of those who have invested their savings in these corporations. Inferentially, if the men back of the merger can devise a plan which meets these objections, the program will be permitted to go through as it was formulated.

The second decision of importance was handed down in the United States federal court in the case of the National Food Products corporation. It was ordered dissolved by Judge William J. Bondy on the ground that it violated the provisions of the Clayton anti-trust law The individuals, who organized it, are enjoined from proceeding with their plan and from disposing of the stock which they were intending to offer.

Of the two rulings, the latter is by far the most important. It again gives legal color to the anti-trust law which had been allowed to slumber so long that it was said to have become a "dead letter." The government, acting through the department of justice, was the complainant in the suit against the National Food Products company. For this reason it may be taken as expressive of the administration's views on this subject. No doubt it was inspired by the president and pressed to successful conclusion with his hearty approval.

The suit, then, sheds light upon the president's attitude toward Big Business. Mr. Coolidge has made no secret of the fact that he looks upon consolidation of the stronger and weaker railway systems in this country as the only economic solution of the problems which confront the transportation interests. He has even gone so far as to suggest that where Big Business can operate effectively and efficiently without conflicting with public interest, there shall be no interference by the government. At the time he made known this policy through unofficial spokesmen, there were vague alarms. The action of the government at this time in the case of the National Food Products company will do much to allay these fears.

This has been a most perplexing and confusing age of industrialism.

The last decade has seen us renounce many of the ideas which previously had inspired our attitude toward business and its relation to government. The spur of war and its necessities developed industry upon a larger scale than the most extravagant dreams. Great industries expanded their operations enormously and found it most advantageous. It is impossible to return industry and business to its old state. Few of us want to. Possibly these decisions will go a long way toward clarifying the atmosphere.

THE DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBER.

Few newspaper publishers in Nebraska will complain of the state legal department's ruling in regard to accounts against delinquent subscribers. Most of them settled that question for themselves a long time ago by adopting the rule of cutting off every subscription when it expires, unless the subscriber orders it continued. That is in accordance with good business principles.

The attorney general's office, replying to a query from St. Edwards, holds that a publisher cannot enforce payment for sending his paper to anyone whose subscription has run out and who has not renewed it. That is to say, a subscription contract between the publisher and the reader is not something which runs on forever, like Tennyson's brook, but is supposed to terminate at the end of the specific period for which the paper was ordered.

Of course, this does not mean that a subscriber can ask to have the paper mailed or delivered to him without paying in advance, and afterward refuse to pay. He is bound by his action in that regard whether he pays cash or orders the paper sent "on time."

As a matter of business policy, it is better for both the publisher and the subscriber if the transaction is made strictly on a cash basis. Where the latter pays in advance at the time of ordering his paper, his name goes on the subscription list for a definite time, ending on a particular date. No other bookkeeping is required. Usually the publisher notifies the subscriber a few days before the time is out and gives him an opportunity to renew. If the subscriber does not want to do so, his name is dropped and that is the end of it.

The old time custom of keeping a subscriber's name on the list until he paid up and ordered the paper stopped may have fitted the conditions which prevailed in Nebraska during its early development; but nowadays it is entirely out of keeping with the times. The publisher who continues this practice does so at his own risk. Under the law, he cannot compel anyone to pay where the paper was not ordered to be sent.

A newspaper is not a luxury that people can get along without nor is it to be classed with other forms of artistic effort valuable in themselves, as esthetic creations, but not altogether indispensable. It is a tangible daily necessity in every household, the same as bread, milk, potatoes, fuel, water, and light. It is a direct product of human toil and mechanical efficiency, which costs real money to supply.

The newspaper serves its readers in a multitude of ways. It is a servant worthy of its hire. The publisher should think enough of his output not to give it away. If the newspaper is what it should be, it will find plenty of subscribers not only willing to pay for it, but keenly disappointed if it does not continue coming regularly.

PUBLIC APATHY.

City Commissioner Duncan has made the remarkable statement, regarding a recently proposed ordinance for the regulation of certain radio activity, to the effect that, because the radio owners of the city had not organized and supported the suggestion, he could "see no reason why any of the department heads should take the responsibility."

Without regard to the merit of Commissioner Duncan's proposal, we believe he is mistaken in his statement. Public apathy may be a reason why much needed action is frequently not obtained, but it is no justification. In some instances it may require vivid expression of public sentiment to move the wheels of government, but it should not be the rule.

There has been, for example, no organization of non-smoke users demanding that the smoke nuisance in down-town Lincoln be abated, but the need for action is there notwithstanding. There is a city ordinance covering this question, but it seems to have been forgotten. Surely Mr. Duncan would not insist that because no organized demand has been presented to the city council that the council is justified in permitting the nuisance to continue. In the event that the commissioners are not familiar with the condition any housewife who has been covered with a soot-blanket while shopping will be glad to explain the matter.

INQUISITIVE SCIENCE.

There are times when the inquisitiveness of science gets on an ordinary mortal's nerves.

One of those occasions is when it gets too familiar with the human body.

Science has given us another picture of the human body. Here is how it has reduced the body of a 150 pound man: Water, 97.5 pounds; albumen, 22.5 pounds; fat, 20 pounds, mineral salts, 7.5 pounds; sugar, 2.5 pounds. That leaves nothing for the spark of intelligence which lifts man from the animal kingdom nor does it make allowance for that divine gift which makes him more generous and more kindly. There are times when science becomes a trifle too exacting.

ANSWERS T CORRESPONDENTS.

"Dear Dr. Lulu: I wonder if you would care to hear from a four-year follower who was, when she began 'Peterising' just 100 pounds overweight? What I have to say may help followers who are very much overweight and throw out the wrinkle S. O. S.

"Four years ago I got your book and reduced at the rate of two to three pounds a week until I had lost 88 pounds. I felt better, but I was so flabby and wrinkled—and I am 40 years of age—so I picked up 20 pounds; looked better in the face—but what a figure! and I felt rotten all the time. My feet were painful and I could scarcely walk after I had gained again. I knew you would start your reducing campaign the first of the year, so I beat you to it. In the middle of December, after two year's rest. I began again. The first day was a no-calorie day; the next day I ate two grapefruits, and the third day two grapefruits and a glass of milk. I remained on below 1200 C. all week. Yesterday, a little more than four weeks after my start, I was weighed, and Glory Be! I'm normal, and no more wrinkles than I had when I commenced!

"I hope my experience will be of benefit to some other overfed sister who has a horror of wrinkles. I've lost just 100 pounds. Doctor, it is a rank disgrace for anyone to carry around so much lard as that. We should have our appetites under control, don't you agree with me? I notice that most overweight persons walk as though their feet hurt. Is it due to surplus weight, or does overeating affect the feet, too, as it does the general health?

"I thank the Lord every day for you, Dr. Peters, and the good you are doing for humanity. You have a work that will live for a long while after you are called to your reward!—M."

Now let's see: How can we account for your wrinkling so much the first time and none the second time?

I think you would have found, had you continued the first time to reduce to normal, that after you had been on your maintenance diet for a period your face would have filled out and you would have lost your wrinkled look. Of course a loss of 100 pounds is a fearful lot. You didn't say how much you weighed, M., but it must have been a ton or so.

About the feet: the feet are painful both from the fact that the arches are apt to break down, and from the toxemia produced by the overeating which affects all the joints.

The last time you reduced 30 pounds in four weeks. That was too rapid. I don't approve of such a rapid reduction, although apparently a lot of you are getting away with it.

(One-half of a good-sized grapefruit, without sugar, is 100 Calories.)

Yes, certainly I agree with you that our appetites should be under control. Thank you ever 'n ever so much for your nice sentiments regarding Dr. Peters.

(We have in condensed form the reducing instructions contained in my book. Those of you who need the instruction may have this little booklet by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps.)

P.—We have an article on Diet in Chronic Bright's Disease. You can obtain this by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with request.

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

MEXICANS MAKE CLEAN GETAWAY

Men Wanted In Connection With North Platte Killing Not Found.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb, March 6.—(AP)—A house to house search of the Mexican quarter Friday afternoon and evening failed to find any trace of Jose Randres or "Mexican" Pedro, wanted in connection with the murder of Ernest Ward Friday morning.

The police were rushed to the Mexican district when word was received that the pair was fortified in a deserted house, but the alarm proved to be false.

Police give the theory of anger caused by the fight between Alfred Conley and Jose Radres as the motive for the slaying and state that the slayer thought he was shooting Conley when Ward was shot

Biggest Submarine In U. S. Navy Wins Approval in Test

NEW LONDON, Conn., March 5.—(AP)—A new underwater queen rode today at her pier at the submarine base.

Ice coated from a battle with the elements, the V-1, Uncle Sam's largest submarine, shows scars received in a test off Block Island yesterday. Resting on the carpet of the ocean 204 feet below the surface she was subjected to pressure that would have crushed an ordinary craft.

Having dived deeper than at any previous time, the 341 foot craft, with nearly 100 men abroad emerged from its task with the stamp of approval from a naval board of observation.

College Freshman Not Deteriorated, Says Prof. Reed

Prof. A. A. Reed, director of the extension department of the University of Nebraska spoke Saturday noon at the regular weekly meeting of the Professional Men's club on the subject "Has the College Freshman Deteriorated?"

Answering his own question, Professor Reed thought not. There are more students below college average than there were thirty-five years ago, he said, but there are also more above the average.

Three influences bearing on the question must be considered, Preparation, attitude toward work, and native ability, or intelligence.

The preparation in high school is now much better than it was thirty-five years he said, but the attitude toward the work in college is not as good. This is because of the change in conditions surrounding the getting of a college education he said. It is more popular now and the sacrifice necessary thirty-five years ago is not asked now.

The native ability of the student is on the upgrade, he said, and pointed out that thirty-five years ago out of 474 students in the state university 47 per cent were below college grade, but that only 12 per cent out of 10,000 are now below college grade.

An interesting point brought out by Professor Reed was the increase in high school enrollment. There are now forty-seven times as many students graduated from high schools in Nebraska as were thirty-five years ago, he said.

All of his figures are taken from local conditions, he said. He illustrated his talk with graphs.

The imports for the month were valued at $416,766,413, and exports were $397,195,833.

Dale P. Strough Makes Filing For County Attorney

Dale P. Stough, for seven years a member of the Lancaster county bar, filed Saturday morning as democratic candidate for county attorney. One other filing for this nomination has already been made.

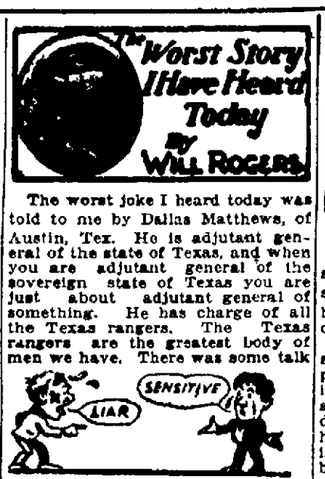

Mr. Stough is 38 years old and is the son of a Burlington railroad conductor. He has lived in Nebraska eighteen years and been an attorney in the state for fifteen years. He also has had wide experience as a court reporter.

A statement of his platform was made Saturday by Mr. Stough as follows:

"I favor the maintenance of office facilities in the court house for public officials, and would expect to conduct the office at the least expenditure compatible with properly handling its affairs.

"Fair, courteous service would be given the public, as well as fair, fearless consideration to the important business interests of the community, without permitting encroachment on the rights of the rest of the public.

"In law enforcement, I would continue the high moral tone and policy of protecting the large student population, which has assisted so materially in the growth of the community. I would seek closer co-operation with state and local peace officers."

The worst joke I heard today was told to me by Dallas Matthews, of Austin, Tex. He is adjutant general of the state of Texas, and when you are adjutant general of the sovereign state of Texas you are just about adjutant general of something. He has charge of all the Texas rangers. The Texas rangers are the greatest body of men we have. There was some talk some time ago about doing away with them. Why, that would be the most colossal blunder that was ever pulled in Texas. They are better known than anything in Texas, or in any other state. They train those outlaws down there so that they just phone out and have 'em come in. Mr. Matthews was telling me of a case down there where they were trying a man, and the following conversation took place:

"Why did you strike this man?" asked the judge

"He called me a liar," Your Honor," replied the accused.

"Is that true?" asked the Judge, turning to the man with the mussed up face.

"Sure it's true," said the accuser. "I called him a liar because he is one and I can prove it."

"Well, what have you got to say to that?" asked the Judge of the defendant.

"Its got nothing to do with the case, Your Honor," was the unexcited reply. "I know I am a liar, but I guess I got a right to feel sensitive about it, aint I?"

CHAPTER 78.

In spite of his muttered expression of skepticism, James went to sleep soon after he had left his brother's room. John's manner had quieted his fears.

Whatever Alice had told John she had not told him of the suspicions his brother had awakened in her breast. Perhaps, after all, she had changed her mind about doing that. Perhaps instead she had only accused him of throwing too much work on his brother by his absence in New York. If so, John had probably let the accusation pass as too trifling to be argued about. John cared so little about anything except being comfortable himself.

Yet suppose John loved Alice—as Jim had been assuring himself he did? Well, perhaps, after all, Alice had shown so plainly by speech and manner her love for the younger brother that the elder one understood there could never be any chance for him. James had certainly succeeded in prejudicing his fiancee against John for all time. He was relieved to find that John did not suspect him of double dealing in this instance.

It would not do to alienate John now. It would not be safe to make an enemy of him—lest he might exact the pound of flesh. Down in the bottom of his heart James still hoped that his brother would relent about the return of that "loan." In that case the marriage could take place in August.

But—what was John writing to his lawyer about at this hour of the night?

The letter to the lawyer was not the only one that John wrote that night. The second letter was brief, and was addressed to Alice Fitzgerald It ran as follows:

"Jim has no idea of the subject of your conversation with me this evening. He thinks you remained silent on the matter of which you spoke. He will be happier in this belief It is only fair that you know this Forgive me if I suggest that you destroy this note when you have read it. John Hay."

It was two o'clock when John returned from posting his two epistles. They would be collected early in the morning. He felt more at peace now that he had discharged what he felt was his duty. He was so tired that he was able to fall asleep soon after going to bed. He was even able to ignore for a few hours the cruel pain Alice had caused him this evening. All hope of her friendship was dead. He knew the worst. She would always despise him. That did not prevent his loving her. If she ever needed him he was ready to serve her.

That, he told himself, was about all he had to live for now. To be at her service if she were in trouble; to protect her from misfortune, if possible! to do all within his power to make her marriage to Jim happy.

Her happiness depended on marrying Jim he reminded himself as he had done often during the weeks just past. Then she must marry him. He chided himself for having suggested to his brother that the early marriage would be unfair to the girl. To keep from her the man upon whom she depended for happiness would be unfair.

There was some comfort in the thought that his own suffering tonight would indirectly bring about fulfillment of Alice's heart's desire.

He had thrust from him all consideration of the subject from a judicial standpoint. He would no longer set himself up as a judge of Jim. He loved Alice too dearly to do that.

For, strange and paradoxical as it might seem, he loved her more than ever. There burned in his heart the fire of renunciation, purifying this love. He loved her enough to give her up, to keep away from her—since his presence might detract from her happiness.

Happiness was far from Alice Fitzgerald's mind as she entered her home tonight. Her mother met her in the hall.

"Why, my dear," she greeted her, "are you alone? Why did you not telephone to Ames? He called up just now to ask if you had come home. I will tell Daddy to telephone him that you have come. It was inconsiderate of you not to notify the poor man of your change of plans."

"I am sorry, mother," the girl apologized. "I never though about it."

"A little selfish, my dear—a little selfish!" the parent reproved. Then she added playfully: "But I suppose we must excuse you, since you were probably worried about dear Jim. How is he, my dear?"

"Better," the girl said briefly.

"And how did yo get home?"

"His brother brought me."

"Jack brought you, and you did not ask him in? But, of course, you did ask him to come in, didn't you?"

"No, I did not," the girl admitted.

"But why not, child? He is so sweet and lovely! Why didn't you ask him?" the mother persisted.

"Because," the harried creature answered, "I did not want him! I am tired of him! Yes!"—seeing the expression of surprise in her parent's eyes,—"I mean that!- You all think he is so fine! I do not! Jim is worth one thousand of him!"

"My dear child!" the mother soothed. "You are so much in love that you fail to see the good in other people. That is natural,—yet it does not justify you in condemning a nice young man like John Hay I am a little surprised you should speak so.—as he is to be your dear brother so soon. It is not quite fair."

"Over-wrought," Amelia Fitzgerald explained to her husband when her daughter had rushed off upstairs to her own room. "For my part, I wish the young people could marry soon. Alice will never be really happy until then,—she is so desperately in love with Jim!"

CONFER ON U. S. COURSE AT MEET

Kellogg, Houghton and Gibbs to Talk Over Arms Problem.

WASHINGTON, March 6—(By the Associated Press.)—The course to be followed by this country in the preliminary disarmament conference called by the League of Nations will be outlined here this month at a conference between Secretary Kellogg, Ambassador Houghton, from London, and Minister Gibson, from Geneva

The two diplomats have been called to this country for consultation with the secretary and they will sail on the President Roosevelt tomorrow. By the time they open conferences with Mr Kellogg, about the middle of the month, the league is expected to have announced the date and place of the arms meeting.

Minister Gibson, who probably will head the American delegation to the conference, already has been summoned to Washington, and Ambassador Houghton's presence was desired by Secretary Kellogg because of his knowledge of the British and German views concerning armament questions. Before taking the London post, Mr. Houghton was this country's representative at Berlin.

Plan Wholesale Arrests To Get Payroll Bandits

CHICAGO, March 6.—(AP)—Police are pinning their hope on a wholesale arrest campaign to locate the eight or ten robbers who staged a spectacular $30.000 payroll holdup at a plant of the International Harvester Co.

Eighteen suspects are sought. All have police records and several were partially identified by witnesses of the robbery as resembling members of the band which terrorized the plant office force just at noon Friday and dashed out in ten minutes with the payroll cash box

The robbers worked with such precision and certainty that police are inclined to believe that one or two were former employes of the company. The holdup was directed by two masked men, but all others of the band were unmasked. Two of the unmasked men were recognized as a pair of visitors who made a sight-seeing tour of the plant recently.

ASSERTS WOMAN DROWNED A CHILD

Foster Son, 7, Declares Guardian Slew 4-Year-Old Girl Year Ago.

STOCKTON, Cal, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Leonora Aguilar, 4 years old, was tied to a door and at daybreak drowned in a cask of water by Mrs Louisa Zamora, her guardian, 9-year-old Raymond Zacharias testified at the trial of the woman on a charge of murder here yesterday.

Raymond, the foster son of Mrs. Zamora, said the woman had become angered because the little girl arose at midnight to obtain a crust of bread.

Apparently in terror of his guardian, whom he called "Cooka," the boy testified haltingly. He said his playmate was drowned on Christmas day, 1924.

The Zamoras left the community. Nine months later Leonora's body was found buried in the rear of the shack the Zamoras occupied at Tracy, near here. Mrs Zamoras was arrested after a wide search. Her husband has not been found.

Loup City Wants A New City Hall

LOUP CITY, Neb., March 6.—Petitions are being circulated asking for the submission to the voters at the spring election of a proposal to erect a city hall at a cost of $12,000. It is proposed to erect the building on the lots north of the courthouse which are owned by the city. It is not thought there will be any difficulty in securing the required number of signers.

Gorgeous Gowns Of Movie Queens Sold at Auction

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 6.—(AP)—A shop girl Cinderella today had her chance to fill the shoes of Pola Negri, while the cloak of Gloria Swanson fell upon the shoulders of a factory girl.

It was the annual sale of the wardrobe department of the Paramount west coast studio, when costumes worn by the actresses and too soiled for further use are offered to the highest bidder.

Pola's Parisian pumps sold for a few cents. Gloria's gorgeous cape, which cost $125. brought only $5. A $750 black satin evening gown embroidered with small pearls and rhinestones cost its owner but $35.

Hundreds of women fought for advantageous places as gowns originally costing thousands of dollars went at knockdown prices.

The services were at the home.

Cancel Dances On Idaho U. Campus; Meningitis Scare

MOSCOW, Idaho, March 6.—(AP)—All social events scheduled on the University of Idaho campus this week end have been cancelled because of fear of the spread of spinal meningitis.

Miss Evangeline Bennett, the only student ill with the disease, is reported to be "getting along nicely," although she is still seriously ill. One other case was discharged from the hospital last week.

Throat cultures of students have been taken and several "positive reactors" and at least one carrier has been found. Strictest precautionary measures, it is believed will stop all spread of the disease.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

GENEVA — (AP) — Forecasts in League of Nations circles concerning the league meeting next week indicate there is growing sympathy to a plan to accord Poland a non-permanent seat in the council as the best means of solving political problems which are likely to arise between Germany and Poland.

CHICAGO — (AP)—The profession of being a parent is the only one in the country that can be practiced without a special training and yet 95 per cent of the cure of the child lies in the cure of the parent. The existence fo this situation was deplored as true by speakers Friday at the midwest conference on parent education here. In urging the training fo parents, Dr. Frank Wood E. Williams, New York psychiatrist, said: "There is nothing difficult about child rearing. The revelations of the experts as to the mental, physical and emotional life of children may be grasped by people of ordinary intelligence if they will only take the pains."

CLEVELAND, O.—(AP)—To permit District Attorney Bernsteen and his associates to go carefully over the statements and testimony of 250 witnesses, the federal grand jury investigating an alleged nationwide bootleg alcohol conspiracy recessed Friday until next Thursday. When the investigators reconvene, Bernsteen expects quick action on the 300 page indictment naming 100 persons in twelve cities, and citing 100 overt acts.

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP) — As a result of the fire Thursday at the air mail field here which destroyed four airplanes and a hangar, an order was issued at the field Friday abolishing the practice of re-fueling planes in a hangar. The order was received from General Air Mail Superintendent A. E. Sisler at Omaha, and applies to all air fields of the air mail service. An investigation determined that the "blaze was unavoidable."

DENVER, Colo.—(AP)—Mrs. Rene Devilbess, arrested by Jefferson county authorities Wednesday in connection with an investigation into the death of Mrs. Virgil Massie, and released Thursday was re-arrested Friday. Mrs. Massie died under what officials believe to be mysterious circumstances at her home in Edgewater, a suburb of Denver, on the night of February 1.

KEY WEST, Fla.—(AP)—Mrs. Isobel E. Crittenten, formerly of Chicago, Friday announced the engagement of her daughter, Florence Cecilia, to William Earl Dodge Stokes, jr., of Lennox, Mass., a son of William Earl Dodge Stokes and Mrs. Rita Hernandez De Albade Acosta Lydig.

CHICAGO.—(A. P.)—Hunter Eaton, son of Mrs. Marquis Eaton, and Miss Constance Hirschy, daughter of Mrs. Edith Dryer Hirschy, of Minneapolis, were married Friday beside the sick bed of Mrs. Eaton. The marriage was hastened by the illness of the groom's mother, who wished to witness it.

HANNIBAL, Mo.—(A. P.)—J. B. McCutchan, St. Louis, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit court here late Friday of a charge of assenting to the receiving of deposits in the Citizens' Trust Co. of Gorin, Mo., while the bank was in a failing condition. The jury was out more than twenty hours.

CHICAGO.—(A. P.)—No one should be shocked by pictures showing Chicago politicians dining with "gangmen," "gunmen," or any other group of the electorate, said Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, Friday. "A politician goes where the votes are," Dr. Brummitt said in his article in the official publication of the Methodist Episcopal church in this district. "Of course State's Attorney Crowe went to an Italian club banquet. Of course Senator Dineen went to a similar function. And hundreds of other men in politics do the same thing."

WASHINGTON.—(A. P.)—Indications were given at the white house Friday that President Coolidge is opposed to any considerable increase in appropriation for army and navy aviation.

WASHINGTON.—(A. P.)—President Coolidge is convinced the country faces continued prosperity and that the recent drop in security values on the stock market benefitted conditions rather than forecast any slump in business and industry.

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP VOLENDAM, Bound for Plymouth, Eng. —(A. P.)—The Dutch liner Volendam, which left New York February 27, is steaming eastward today with Captain Charles Rose and his crew of five men rescued from the sinking schooner General Smuts' safely aboard. The General Smuts' men were taken off their vessel Thursday after ten weeks of hardships at sea. The rescue was affected in a choppy sea by a boat crew from the Volendam. The schooner was in such condition, her captain reported she could not have lasted thirty-six hours.

CHICAGO—(A. P.)—Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and "Zoro" stopped in Chicago two hours Friday on the first lap of a trip around the world. "Why didn't you fellows bring a charcoal bucket or something?" Doug asked the small mob of reporters and photographers who greeted them. "Zoro," Mary's Irish terrier, was so excited at his release from the baggage car to "it pretty" for the photographers, but Doug and Mary submitted.

OIL CITY, Pa.—(A. P.—The first charge of thermite, the chemical which it is hoped will break the huge ice gorge here, was placed late Friday afternoon. More thermite was to be placed today, Dr. H. T. Barnes of McGill university, Montreal, who is supervising the work, said. Definite results in melting the ice will not be discernible for several days, he announced.

MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN

Helped in Caring for them by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Glasgow, Ky.—"I am the mother of seven children, the eldest being only 12 years, and I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to pull me through the roughest places of my married life. At one time I was so downhearted that life was a misery. A friend in Indianapolis, Indiana, told me of the Vegetable Compound, and after taking a few bottles of it I became myself again and it was a pleasure to do my housework and gardening. Since then I always use your medicine when I feel weak from overwork and it straightens me out."—Mrs. MELISSA BARDERS, Route 2, care of O. F. Steenbergen, Glasgow, Ky.

New Orleans, La.—"I could not do a thing after my first boy was born. I was so weak, I had no appetite, lost weight and was not able to do my work. I was this way for seven weeks, then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got wonderful results from it."—Mrs. C. FAURIE, 4014 Dauphine St., New Orleans, La.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN A RASH

On Hands for Ten Years. Healed by Cuticura.

"I had eczema for at least ten years. It broke out in a rash and itched and burned causing me to scratch. Scratching caused eruptions and my hands looked a fright. I could not put my hands in water, and had to hire someone to do my work. There were many nights I could not sleep because my hands hurt so.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and within a week I could see an improvement. I continued the treatment and in about a month I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. H. L. Bood, 543 18th Ave. A, Moline, Ill., Sept. 11, 1925.

Market Quotations

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 6.

Grains closed irregular today with wheat ¼ to ⅝c lower; corn ⅛ to ⅜c up and oats unchanged to ⅛c higher.

WHEAT—Wheat opened ⅝c lower to ⅛c higher. The September futures showed the strength. There was selling on the unresponsive cables from Liverpool, but no material pressure. There was resting orders to buy May around $1.60 which checked the decline. The cash market was relatively strong with offerings light and the trade active.

CORN—Corn opened ⅛ to ⅜c better. There was scattered buying and limited offerings. Weather conditions over the belt are less favorable for the movement of the market, but news of the Washington developments were more favorable. The cash market held strong for good grades and easy on the off quality. Estimates receipts were 155 cars.

OATS—Oats opened steady to ⅛c better on buying by locals. Later there was selling by commission houses, but only slight changes were noted. The cash market was steady. Estimated receipts were 28 cars.

PROVISIONS—Provisions closed a shade easier.

Grains opened irregular today.

Wheat started ⅛c higher to ½c lower on mixed trading, while corn was ¼ to ½c hgher on good buying. Oats opened unchanged to ⅛c higher. Provisions opened steady.

Light receipts in the northwest and the firmness in Minneapolis caused uneasiness among shorts in May wheat here. With light stocks here and the outside markets hold above a shipping parity, May deliveries will of necessity be light.

Corn futures were comparatively quiet. Buying is scattered, while there is no disposition to go short in the face of possible bullish legislation at Washington.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 6.

Speculation in the short session of the market today revolved around the railroad stocks, the independent oils and a few of the specialties. Prices were higher at the start, but profit-taking in heavy volume appeared before the end of the first hour and the tone of the market was slightly reactionary, with industrial stocks and utilities showing the widest range of price declines.

High-priced industrials broke 2 to 6 points in the second hour as the effects of the "secondary reaction" became more pronounced. American Can dropped back to 301 for a six point loss, General Electric lost 4 and Cast-Iron Pipe 5. Heavy selling of Ward Baking "B" resulted in a decline of nearly 3 points, while Baldwin Locomotive was off 2½ points. Baking support was not supplied to the industrial and sepialty stocks, and some of the latter found a thin market when offerings became heavy.

The commodity markets were generally steady with the usual week-end evening up of speculative accounts in cotton, wheat and textiles.

The railroad and oil stocks were active and strong at the opening of the market today. Industrials were irregular with the bulk of price changes representing slight gains. Chesapeake & Ohio railroad gained a point at 128½; Pittsburgh & West Virginia up ½ at 109½; Nickel Plate unchanged at 165; Pere Marquette down 1⅛ at 33¾; Missouri Pacific up ½; Erie up ⅝.

Standard Oil of New Jersey up ⅛ at 42; Sinclair, Shell Union, General Petroleum and Marland fractionally higher. U. S. Steel lost ⅝ at 124; American Can down 2 at 305; Hudson Motor down 1½ at 111; Universal Pipe up 1 at 21⅞.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 6.—(AP)—Dun's today said:

"Without anything in the commercial news to precipitate it, a drastic and sweeping break occurred in stock prices this week. The decline was extended by an adverse ruling in a railroad merger case and all leading speculative markets were affected by the unsettlement in securities. The calmer tone that developed in Wall street on Thursday when there was a substantial recovery from the early depression was welcomed in all quarters. In trade circles the fact was stressed that the fundamental situation remains sound, with employment of workers and the public buying power holding at high levels, and reports of burdensome supplies of goods are still the conspicuous exception. As spring draws nearer, interest in needs for the new season tends to broaden and there is a quickening of demand in some channels, though with no departure from conservative action. Purchasing only for well defined requirements is a policy that is being strictly adhered to in nearly all instances, but the frequent repeating of moderate sized orders make up a very large aggregate of transactions.

"Weekly bank clearings, $10,796,488,000."

gram of the committee of twenty-two, appointed by the recent Des Moines conference, Senator Brookhart, republican of Iowa, today introduced a bill calling for $250,000,000 federal fund for the creation of a farmers' national export co-operative organization. This body, controlled by the farmers, would handle the agricultural surplus and pay each member the average cost of production plus a 5 per cent margin of profit upon capital investment.

Murphy Urges Action.

"The time for action has come," said F. W. Murphy, Wheaton, Minn., chairman of the committee of twenty-two farm organizations. Murphy owns a 5,000 acre farm. The farmers say it takes two hogs, two bushels of wheat and two steers to buy today what could be had in 1914 for one unit. In contrast with this, they point out, American industry, favored by a protective tariff, the transportation act and restricted immigration, is enjoying the greatest boom in history, war times excepted.

"Legislation," said Murphy, "put the farmer in his present plight. The tariff enables a manufacturer to receive higher prices for his goods, but the farmer, while required to pay these high prices, get a 1914 return on his products."

The remedial program now before the committee calls for repayment of the $250,000,000 to the government out of an equalization fee which will be levied on the farmer.

It was this equalization fee which threatened today to wreck the bill. House experts were puzzled over its collection and many believed that the farmer, in the final analysis, would oppose such a tax."

Leaders of the farmers' committee said the fee could be collected at the mills and packing plants, narrowing down the transactions to a few thousand at the most.

NEW BUILDING AT NORFOLK ASYLUM

Living Quarters For Employes and Large Auditorium to Cost $100,000.

Twenty-three suites of living apartments for married employes at the Norfolk state hospital for insane and a large chapel auditorium for holding religious services and other assemblages and entertainments are provided for in plans for a new $100,000 building to be erected at that institution. The board of control has approved drawings made by Architect J. C. Stitt of Norfolk and will advertise for bids within a few weeks.

This is the last edifice on the board's major building program for the current biennium. Contracts have previously been let for additional inmate buildings at the Lincoln and Hastings hospitals, and for one of smaller size at the York reformatory for women. At the penitentiary, a residence has been erected for the warden and his family outside the walls, some construction work done inside, and a powerhouse is now going up outside. Steel cells, with shower baths, drains, lavatories, toilets and other accessories are being installed in a new building at the men's reformatory. Minor improvements are being made at various institutions, and the home for dependent children will be moved to the recently purchased White residence at University Place.

The ground size of the Norfolk building is 126 by 54 feet, and it will have three stories above the basement. The auditorium or chapel, 51 by 70 feet, with a large balcony, will take up a large part of the second and third floor space. Its seating capacity will be 650 to 700, the inmate population being 817.

There will be twenty suites of living quarters, each comprising a living room, a bedroom, and a bath. Three other apartments will have an extra bedroom each.

The building will be placed at the west end of the court, and will face both ways, one front being on the court and the other on the street. Its walls will be of common red brick, similar to those of other buildings on the grounds.

It is expected that $90,000 of the appropriation will be needed for the building itself. The remaining $10,000, or whatever portion of it is available, will go for equipment.

GOVERNMENT FALLS AFTER ADVERSE VOTE

since November 27, last, and has held the premiership of France eight times. During his last incumbency he has had to steer the ship of state through stormy waters several times on matters related to the financial and Syrian situations.

His supreme triumph over the opposition came late in December when he out-generaled the radical left members of his cabinet who opposed him. He told them bluntly to agree with him or get out of the ministry. They gave way and agreed to support M. Doumer's plans. The spirit of Locarno has been introduced into the cabinet, was the premier's comment on his victory over the recalcitrants.

M. Briand's cabinet was more or less a coalition ministry. In general plans the radical left cartel worked fairly well with him, but it would have nothing to do with his financial projects.

Accepted With Reluctance.

Aristide Briand assumed the premiership last November with reluctance in view of the defeat of no less than five previous premiers who had attempted to stabilize the franc and bring order out of the chaos into which France was thrown in an effort to satisfy her war creditors.

When he assumed the leadership M Briand made the laconic pronouncement:

"I am the policy." He defied the chamber, which always was hostile to his financial plans, to oust him and managed to obtain victory in cases where it seemed certain that he would go down to defeat.

The chamber recently passed the government's financial rehabilitation measures, but in greatly amended form. The measure, as it went to the senate, left 2,400,000,000 francs to be provided for to meet the government's demands. The senate restored the bill so as to meet the government's requirements and returned it to the chamber. It was on one of the clauses of the bill that the Briand government went down to defeat.

Franc Drops.

PARIS, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The fall of Premier Briand had an immediate effect on the financial market today. The dollar which closed yesterday at 26.78 opened today at 27.53. It went to 27.89 during the first hour and then reacted to 27.70.

Decline at London.

LONDON, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The resignation of the French cabinet caused a flurry in the exchange market in London this morning. Free offerings brought a decline of 4 points in the franc to 134 1-2 to the pound sterling.

The rate moved erratically around that figure but business slackened later. Other rates were scarcely affected.

Makes Report On Welfare Society

Secretary C. E. Prevey of the Social Welfare society made his report for February to the council of social agencies. It shows that bills for the month aggregating $2,144.87 were allowed by the board of directors at a meeting held last Thursday Mr. Prevey recommended informally that the board consider the establishment of a department of child welfare. He said that this kind of work has been increasing rapidly since the society was granted the right by the community chest to do it. The recommendation included the suggestion that the work be taken on by fall and that an additional worker be appointed to look after the department.

LYNCH BANK TO BE REORGANIZED

Ask Approval of Plans For Security State With $25,000 New Capital.

Plans for reorganizing the Security State bank of Lynch, with $25,000 of newly subscribed capital, to be operated in the future under the name of Farmers' State bank, have almost reached the final stage. They will be submitted to the district court of Boyd county for its approval within the next few days.

Since November 11, 1924, the Security State bank has been operated by the guaranty fund commission. Now C. F. Roe, B. Ira, and Dan Melsha are applying to the state banking bureau for a charter under the new business title. Melsha was cashier of the old bank and is to retain the same position in the new one. Roe will be president and Ira vice president. There are no other stockholders in the reorganized institution.

Trade and Commerce Secretary Griggs is ready to approve the charter as soon as the district court gives its sanction to the transfer of assets from the old bank to the new. The Farmers' State bank will start with a clean slate, since all the capital has been resubscribed, all losses are being made good and all bad or doubtful paper taken out.

The old bank had $20,000 capital and $2,000 surplus, but these amounts were wiped out by failure to realize on loans which had been made. The deposits are about $350,000. The new bank assumes all liability therefor, but will be reimbursed from the guaranty fund to the extent of about $175,000, which represents the excess of liabilities over good assets.

A. M. Holbert, president of the Security State bank, and A. Wasatka, assistant cashier, will not be connected with the reorganized banking house.

the effects at Locarno that when Germany came into the league council she would come in alone.

If the league is to remain truly international and not shrink into a purely European institution it is recognized that Latin-America, with nineteen members of the organization, must have a fair proportion of seats in the council, and that if the council is enlarged Latin America's two seats must be increased.

Briond's Fall a Sensation.

GENEVA, March 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The fall of Premier Briand, on the eve of the negotiations for reconstruction of the League of Nations council, caused an immense sensation and some anxiety as he is permanent French delegate to the league, under appointment from the president of France.

It is felt that the unexpected ministerial crisis will weaken his hand in the pour parlers with the German and British statesmen regarding the counil questions.

Eleven Parking Violators Warned

Municipal Judge E. B. Chappell freed eleven violators of the parking ordinance in court Saturday morning. He dismissed them with a warning, which, he said, was final.

Second offenders were fined by Judge Chappell. E. H. Porter and R. C. Van Kirk, charged with parking longer than 2 hours, and Mrs. R. Dworsky, said to have violated the 1-hour parking ordinance, were fined $1 and costs each.

The following were dismissed: T. R. Roberts, A. D. Johnston, Charles Walter, and C. E. Rankin for parking longer than two hours; and Dr. Teal, L. W. Ward, C. A. Mitchell, J. L. Kennard, Joe Erwin, Alva Butler and W. E Gunn for violating the 1-hour ordinance

Shining Parlor Till Is Robbed

Thieves who climbed over a transom to enter the building robbed the American Shining Parlor, 1130 1-2 O street, of $7.35 some time Friday night. Renard Noyes reported the theft to police. He said that the money was taken from a cash register.

Police believed the thieves to have entered through the transom of the front door.

MEXICAN CLAIMS BODY DEADLOCKED

Judge Perry Returns to Home Here; Says Work of Commission Ended.

MEXICO CITY, March 6. — (By the Associated Press.)—The special claims commission which has been considering reparations for the killing of fifteen American mining engineers in the state of Chihuahua has ceased to function. The American commissioner, Judge Ernest B. Perry, will leave today for his home at Lincoln, Neb. The neutral judge, Dr. Octavio, of Brazil, will depart today for Havana.

Judge Perry received formal notification Friday from Dr. Rodrigo Octavio, a Brazilian, who is the neutral presiding judge of the commission, that his (Dr. Octavio's) health will not permit him to continue residence in the high altitude of Mexico City, and that therefore he is leaving shortly. Dr. Octavio failed to call a meeting, which was expected to be held Friday and wrote to Judge Perry that he would not call another session.

It is learned, however, that behind this explanation of the impasse lies the failure of the commissioners so far to agree on the Santa Ysabel case.

The American attitude is that the engineers were murdered by Mexican revolutionists (followers of Francisco Villa) and that therefore the Mexican government is liable for damages.

The Mexican claim is that the murderers were bandits, not revolutionists, and that, therefore, the government is not liable.

The American and Mexican commissioners have been deadlocked on this issue and for that reason Dr. Octavio's decision would be final.

Judge Perry said that "unless the situation changes, it means that the work of the present commission is ended."

Charge Against Woman Chiro Is Heard By Court

The hearing of Dorcas J. Peterson, charged with having practiced as a chiropractic in Lincoln without obtaining a state license was begun in municipal court Saturday morning.

The defendant is charged on five counts. She has pleaded not guilty.

Through her attorney, Fred Patz, the defendant affirmed Saturday that she had applied for a state license after taking the required examination, and had been refused. When the matter was carried to district court, her attorney said, the late Judge Morning decreed that she was entitled to a license, as she had completed a course in a local chiropractic school.

Her attorney intended to prove that she had not accepted money for chiropractic treatments, but had given them for her friends free of charge, pending the outcome of her application for a license.

Ethel Barton, 1620 Q street, testified for the state that she had taken a treatment of Dorcas J. Peterson and had given her $1 as a fee for the treatment.

The hearing was to be continued Saturday afternoon.

Basket Entries Complete; Pairings Announced

Cage Roster Jumps Up to New Record

State Tourney Entries Step Over 340 Mark; More Than 3,000 High Youths Will Head for Lincoln Next Week.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Classifications and pairings of teams for first round play in the sixteenth annual Nebraska interscholastic tournament were announced today by the Nberaska high school control board. The tourney will get under way next Thursday at 8 a. m. and continue through until late Saturday night, when championship awards in twenty-two classes will have decided.

Three additional teams got under the wire Friday morning to bring the total roster to 341 quintets—by far the largest tournament ever held in the realm of the cage sport. This number is nearly one hundred more than participated in the 1924 tourney and is even greater than the total entry list in all district meets last March.

Three Thousand Boys.

Player rosters show 3,000 athletes are listed for participation in the games.

The work of classifying the teams proved a strenuous task and was not completed until the small hours of Saturday morning, members of the control board pursuing the records of the teams before fixing the classification.

A glance at the class A list shows two teams missing that have been in the top division each year that the one central tournament plan was been used. The two quintets are Geneva and University Place, both class B members this year.

Class B Plenty Fast.

A study of the record of teams in the top classifications forecasts plenty of interesting basketball in all divisions. Class B is much faster than in past seasons, whil class C, D and E have a number of teams capable of furnishing basketball of the type close to class B caliber.

Lincoln high has drawn Nebraska City for its first round game. The Otoe county school has been a consistent producer of fast basketball teams. Nebraska City won class B in 1921.

Letter men on the Nebraska City squad are Captain Blakeslee, Cole, Casebeer, Hardick. Other members of the first string are Barkhurst, Chapman, Conley, Gaskill, Richardson, Rogers, Rottmann.

Nebraska City's Record.

Nebraska City has won twelve of the fourteen games played, losing to Plattsmouth and Beatrice, but later evened the Plattsmouth score by administering a drubbing to the Platte county five. Nebraska City record:

Neb. City	23	Dunbar	6
Neb. City	21	Sutton	16
Neb City	34	Auburn	6
Neb. City	24	Talmage	9
Neb City	20	Verdon	9
Neb. City	29	Fairbury	6
Neb. City	16	Plattsmouth	27
Neb. City	28	Neb. Deaf	14
Neb. City	17	Beatrice	25
Neb. City	18	Auburn	15
Neb. City	28	Peru Prep	7
Neb. City	35	Plattsmouth	16
Neb. City	24	Neb. Deaf	18
Neb. City	29	Peru Prep	26

Chadron Leads in West.

Chadron high, the leading western Nebraska team, will tackle Fremont in the first round, West Point, the Wayne tourney champion, will face Omaha Central. Creighton Prep meets Hastings and South Omaha faces Grand Island.

Omaha Tech, present state champion, will tangle with Ravenna. Crete meets North Platte and Beatrice will clash with York in opening games.

Chadron Prep, winner of the Chadron tourney, was placed in B because of its rather mediocre showing during the season, the Prepsters having bowed twice to Chadron high.

North Platte in Class A.

North Platte, runner-up to Gothenburg, in the Kearney meet was given the call in class A ahead of Coach Fred Thomsen's team because two of the Gothenburg regulars are ineligible for further play. Dale, main cog in the Gothenburg machine, celebrated his twenty-first birthday immediately following the Kearney compet. Gothenburg meets University Place in the first round.

Havelock opens with Sutton, runnerup to Clay Center, in the Clay county tourney.

STATE LEAGUERS MEET MARCH 17

Nebraska Loop Delegates Summoned by Beltzer To Get Together.

BY "CY" SHERMAN.

Plans involving reorganization of the Nebraska State baseball league took tangible form today with the announcement that delegates from the six cities in the proposed loop will assemble at the Hotel Lincoln, this city, Wednesday, March 17, at 2 p. m. Call for the meeting was issued by James E. Beltzer of Lincoln, who has been the main spoke of the State league wheel.

The summons to the league delegates to get together in the state capital city came on the heels of a trip to Hastings by Mr. Beltzer. The Lincoln man returned home last night to announce that the Adams county metropolis had solved its ball park problem and also given positive assurance that financial backing had been arranged to place a club in the league. The present Hastings park is to be wrecked at an early date. It is located on Burlington railroad property and the park must go to make room for a new factory, construction of which is to be under way the latter part of March. Prominent businessmen of Hastings assured Beltzer that a new ball park will be constructed on a tract of ground adjacent to the D.-L.-D. highway in the western part of town.

In With Both Feet.

"The Hastings park situation was all that had been holding us back," Beltzer said today, "but that problem has been solved and I have been given positive assurance that Hastings will be in the league with both feet. Hastings is on the verge of a substantial building boom and the men who do things in Hastings have let it be known that they do not have the slightest intention to let the State league be reorganized without Hastings being included."

Mr. Beltzer today was mailing written notices to all league cities that the meeting will be held March 17 and that it will be necessary to send delegates authorized to take final action. The present plan provides for organization of a six-club league, but an effort will be made to enlarge to an eight-club circuit. Nebraska City and Falls City, therefore, will be invited to come into the fold.

Business Partnership.

"We prefer an eight-club league, but a six-club circuit will fill the bill," Beltzer said, "and I feel sure now that we shall be able to go through on that basis. There will be no change of plan from the one outlined several months ago. We intend to make it a business partnership between all the clubs, the receipts to flow into a single treasury and the expenses to be paid from the central office. We shall avoid high salaries, which broke up the league two years ago, by engaging none but young ball players who have never previously been in organized ball. Each club may have but one experienced player, serving as player-manager. By keeping close watch of the expenses and holding down the salaries, the Nebraska league can be made a permanent affair. That is our one intention."

NEBRASKA RALLY 2 POINTS SHORT

Cornhuskers Trail Tigers, 24-22, at Windup Of Basket Battle.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 6.—(AP)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers fell short in a last-minute rally here last night and lost to the University of Missouri, 24 to 22. The Tigers easily walked away from the Nebraska quintet in the first half of the game, but almost went down to defeat in the Cornhuskers' final spurt in which Smaha, forward, and Brown, guard, figured prominently. McDonough, Tiger guard, led in the scoring with 11 points. The score:

Barbed-Wire Fence Diegel's Worst Hazard

BY AL DEMAREE.

"The funniest play I ever made," Leo Diegel tells me, "was pulled during the California open tournament at the Lakeside club, San San Francisco.

"The last hole at Lakeside is 275 yards in length and the fairway runs uphill. Throughout the tournament all of us had been trying to drive the green, but because of the upgrade, none had succeeded.

"Well, I got a whale of a drive, but after carrying on one side of the green, the ball bounded past and to the left. When it came to a stop it was 50 yards off the green and lacked just one inch of being out of bounds. There wasn't much satisfaction in its being in bounds, for it was resting under a barbed-wire fence.

"There was only one way to play. I had to stand out of bounds beyond the fence. The barbed wire presented an ugly difficulty. I sent my caddie to the clubhouse, which was nearby, for two towels. Wrapping my hands in these I shot boldly for the pin.

"In studying out how to overcome the fence I had forgotten a shelter house between the green and where I stood. When I hit my ball it collided solidly with this house and bounced right back under the fence. I still had use for the towels.

"This time I got over the shelter house, reaching the green, but I had to take a six."

Helen Wills Loses In Mixed Doubles Finals at Mentone

MENTONE, France, March 6.—(I. N. S.)—Helen Wills and J. H. Van Allen went down to defeat in the finals of the international mixed doubles at the hands of Mlle Didi Vlasto and Henri Cochet, the French team.

The Americans put up a gallant fight, but were not able to overcome the splendid teamwork of the French stars, who won 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

TEN-PIN CLASSIC STARTS AT TOLEDO

A. B. C. Congress Gets Under Way With Record Total On Entry List.

TOLEDO, O., March 6.—(I.N.S.)—Tonight marks the opening of the twenty-sixth annual international tournament of the American Bowling Congress here and this year, as in several years past, bowlers the country over will take their several cracks at the pins in the hopes that they will come in for some part of the "pot" of $80,000 cash which will be distributed at the close of the classic.

From Toronto on the north, New York on the east, Dallas on the south and Denver on the west, pinpounders will strive to battle the wood for counts that will either win them championships or a slice of the rich prize money.

Ten Thousand Bowlers.

More than 10,000 pinsters will take take their fling at the timber before the tourney ends some five weeks hence, the greater share of these, from a purely city standpoint, being from Chicago and Detroit. The former has an entry of 199 teams, the latter 190 teams.

The blare of two bands, the whack of mineralite against maple and the usual introductory speeches by city and congressional officials will mark the opening tonight.

Singles-Doubles Next Week.

For the opening classic, 28 teams, representing the Eagles lodge, will take possession of the drives at 8 o'clock. For several days there will be no rolling of any event except the team or five-man event, "booster" teams holding down the alleys.

At the end of the week, the two-man and singles events will be started, these events being rolled mornings and afternoons, while evenings will be devoted exclusively to rolling of the five-man teams.

Filipino Fighter Not Yet Defeated In American Ring

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., March 6.—(I. N. S.)—Clever Sencio, the diminutive Filipino fighter, has been victorious again today after a furious ten-round fight here last night with the Greek bantamweight "Tiger Jack" Burns.

It was another one of those give-and-take encounters, with the Manila scrapper giving more than he took. Burns put up an excellent fight, but failed to wear down Sencio after looming strong in the opening rounds.

Sencio, who has yet to be beaten in this country, was given the surprise of his young life for the first three rounds.

Burns tore into him with straight lefts to the face that baffled the Filipino for a time. However, Sencio quickly regained his stride. Opening up a bombardment of rights and lefts, he won five of the remaining rounds, while the other two were about even.

About $50,000,000 is expended in England annually for fox hunting.

Lincoln, University Place, Ashland and Wahoo came through with victories in the class A competition; Sprague-Martel won the only game played in class B, in which there were three forfeitures, and Panama, Greenwood, Denton and Prague qualified for the second round in class C.

Second Round Pairings.

Play in class C second round games was scheduled for Saturday morning, while class B and class A second round games were on the card for the afternoon, the pairing being as follows:

Class C—
Panama vs. Greenwood.
Denton vs. Prague.
Class B—
Sprague-Martel vs. Firth.
Seward vs. Bethany.

Lincoln Wins From Havelock.

In the Lincoln-Havelock game Friday evening, the shoptown youths held the Red and Black on even terms during the first half, but Coach Browne's tossers got the range of the basket during the final period and pulled far ahead, winning by the substantial margin of 33 to 11. Fisher, Lincoln center, led in the scoring with five goals from the floor.

University Place and Ansley competed in the feature combat of the evening program, the game going to two extra periods before McClain, Uni. Place guard, executed the basket which settled the argument, 19 to 17.

Ashland outscored Aggie high, 10 to 6, and Wahoo was not seriously bothered in turning back Temple high, 16 to 11.

Basketball fans who make a practice of weighing dope and picking winners were set back on their heels at the 1922 state basketball tournament, which found Sutton and Crete, litle favored at the start, battling in the finals. Sutton was victorious in the championship round.

The hundred and twenty-six teams journeyed to Lincoln for the tourney—a new record for high school competition.

Members of class A in that year were Omaha Tech, Omaha Central, Beatrice, Omaha South, Crete, Creighton Prep, Fremont, Sutton, Alliance, Geneva, Clay Center, Hastings, Wahoo, University Place, Lincoln and Grand Island.

Big Town Teams Eliminated.

Omaha and Lincoln teams were favored to win the main event, but representatives of neither city reached the semi-finals. In the semi-finals Sutton won from Grand Island, 13 to 9, and Crete beat Geneva, 13 to 12.

The Crete-Sutton final program came as a surprise to tourney followers, as both had been more or less abused in pre-tournament competition

Sutton Wins Exciting Game.

Sutton won in an exciting game for the title, 13 to 11. Crete spurted early in the game, but was trailing, 6 to 5, at half-time and never regained the advantage. The Clay county school had a veteran team on the floor, and, although Crete fought back in good style, Sutton displayed too much teamwork for the Saline quintet. Score:

Basketball Secrets.

BY SOL METZGER.

FOLLOW-UP DRIBBLE.

The follow-up dribble is a recent product of college basketball. It is an effective and simple method for bringing the ball down the floor. One player starts dribbling down the floor, followed by a teammate some six or eight feet behind him. When the dribbler's progress is retarded, he pivots, turns and passes the ball to the teammate directly back of him and breaks for a pass. The upper illustration shows how it is worked. In the lower illustration the opponent of the teammate has gotten between the dribbler and the teammate following. This is a sure way to have the play go wrong.

KANSAS STEPS ON MISSOURI'S TOES

Jayhawkers Refuse to Play Turkey Day; Tigers Come Back With Threat.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 6. — (AP) — Accepting Kansas university's final decision not to meet the University of Missouri football team here next Thanksgiving day, the Missouri university athletic commission last night agreed to the Saturday before Thanksgiving for the thirty-fourth annual game to be played here.

The committee, however, in resolutions adopted, expressed "resentment at the arbitrary action of Kansas," and warned that it would "retain full liberty of action with respect to the date for the Missouri-Kansas games in future years and also with reference to whether a game shall be scheduled with Kansas at all."

Missouri Disappointed.

"Missouri is keenly disappointed at the stand taken by Kansas," Chester L. Brewer, director of athletics said. "It is the unanimous wish of Missouri authorities and of Missouri alumni, former students and friends throughout the state that the game be played on Thanksgiving day and there is a feeling that Kansas has been arbitrary, and has failed to display good sportsmanship in demanding that the date of the game be changed when it is so clearly the unanimous desire on the part of Missourians that the game be played on the holiday."

Last Night's Fights.

At Hollywood, Cal.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska, defeated Johnny Lamar, Los Angeles, 10 rounds.

At New York—Manny Wexler, New York, got the decision over Ernie Jarvis, England, 10 rounds; Izzy Schwartz, New York, decisioned Young Dencio, Philippines, eight rounds.

At East Chicago—Clever Sencio, Manila, beat Tiger Jack Burns, ten rounds; Jackie Williams, Denver, beat Earl Matthews, six rounds.

At Tampa, Fla.—Rocky Kansas, lightweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Freddy England, six rounds; Genero Pino, Havana, knocked out Tommy Foster, Minneapolis; Dativo Fuentes, Havana, won on a foul from Tommy Quinn, Brooklyn, one round.

At Detroit—George Fifield, Toronto, Canadian welterweight champion, won a technical knockout over Joe Brown, Detroit, five rounds.

At Fargo, N. D.—Russie Leroy, Fargo beat Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, 10 rounds.

At East Chicago, Ind.—"Clever" Sencio, Philippines, beat "Tiger" Jack Burns, Oakland, Cal., 10 rounds.

At San Francisco—Tommy O'Brien, New York, beat Tommy Cello, San Francisco, 10 rounds.

HOT TIMES AHEAD IN HEYDLER LOOP

Head of National Predicts Liveliest Flag Race In History of League.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, March 6.—(I. N. S.)—John Heydler, president of the National league, wishes to advise his public that the management will not be responsible for what may happen to innocent bystanders who neglect to do their bystanding at a point well removed from a path of the great stampede. He was referring to the 1926 race in the National league, it being rather dubious business to refer to any other.

In a statement, made to the writer today, Heydler predicted the greatest race since he became identified with the league in an executive capacity. Of the eight competing clubs, he conceded that only two, the Phillies and Cubs, had other than a good gambling chance to win the pennant.

Six-Team Contention.

Of the remaining six, he named four, the Pirates, Giants, Cardinals and Reds, as logical contenders and the other two, the Braves and Dodgers, as more than vague possibilities.

"In only four seasons out of the last seventeen have we had anything better than a two-team race," he said. "In 1908, 1909, 1915 and 1916, three clubs were in the running. This time, we figure to have four, with the outside chance that the Braves will come along and make it five."

Heydler's remarks were made in full recognizance of the fact that the Pittsburgh Pirates happen to be the champions of the world, and, therefore, are entitled to be rated at the top of their league.

His pre-season survey of the National league situation is somewhat as follows:

Heydler's Survey.

Pirates—Improved by acquisition of Rhyne and Waner from Coast league. Team's only weakness last year was lack of substitute for Wright. The latter, fortunately, escaped injury, but if it comes this year, Rhyne will be ready.

Giants — Better pitching with Jimmy Ring on staff and little likelihood of wholesale injuries that occurred last year. Return of Kelly to first base will help. Everyone tells me that Al Tyson will fill that outfield gap.

Young Stars Aid Cardinals.

Cardinals — Maturing of young stars like Hafey, Blades, Douthitt and Bell bound to bring club to top speed for 1926. A great team, if it can get adequate pitching. Rhem, ill last year, has come back, so pitching prospects are looking up.

Reds—Club needed first-baseman last year. Has good one now in Wally Pipp. It's fine pitching certain to keep it in race.

Braves—In Ed Brown the club obtained a hitter it needed to drive in the fast men who get on. Pitching excellent and pep and spirit much the same. Liable to go far.

Dodgers Have the Pitchers.

Dodgers — Great pitching, now that Barnes is with club. Has given nothing away in trades that it cannot get along without. Men like O'Neill, Felix, Butler and Maranville bound to help, particularly the latter, as it may be his last chance.

Phillies—Bentley's hitting should be big help. Young Leach also figures to drive in plenty of runs. Club needs better pitching, however.

Cubs—Still sticking to policy of developing young players. Joe McCarthy supposed to have been best manager in minors and fine in handling the young ones. We have reason to look for better results here in 1926.

Twelve Survive York Cage Meet

YORK, Neb., March 5.—Twelve teams remain in the race for the titles today in the fifth annual tournament. First round results:

Training Camp Briefs.

PITTSBURGH—Babe Adams, veteran hurler of the world champion Pirates, was limping about at Paso Robles, Cal., training camp today, the result of a prize wallop on the ankle by a ball off the bat of Pie Traynour during batting practice yesterday. It was the first real swatting session of the training season, and the pitchers had to do some expert dodging to keep out of the way of the speeding spheres. "Babe" didn't move fast enough.

CLEVELAND—There probably will be no yannigan-regulars game for the Cleveland Indians during this year's spring training. Declaring they "will do no good now," Mr. Manager Tris Speaker intimated, at Lakeland, Fla., that his team would open the spring exhibition season with the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday.

CINCINNATI—Manager Jack Hendricks last night made his first prediction regarding recruit pitchers in training with the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando.

"After five days of work," said Hendricks, "I am positive Clyde Day and Red Lucas will remain with the club as pitchers. There are also two or three left-handers in the squad who look very promising."

NEW YORK—Hopes of aspiring recruits in the training camps of metropolitan major league teams are being shattered earlier than usual this year.

At Sarasota, Fla., the Giants have sent Arthur Crump, an outfielder, and Gus Lindberg, a former Washington and Lee university pitcher, to the Little Rock club of the Southern association.

At Clearwater, Fla., the Robins released Harry Bennett, a young pitching giant, to Buffalo of the International league. Milton Stock, hard hitting third-sacker, continues to hold out.

At St. Petersburg, Babe Ruth of the Yankees was caught at the plate in a practice game when he thought he had made a home run. He was loafing on the way home when Nick Cullop made a mighty throw.

PHILADELPHIA—The Athletics won their first exhibition game of the season. At Punta Gorda, Fla., yesterday they beat Baltimore, 5 to 3.

BOSTON—Joe Genewisch, Henry Wertz and Larry Benton were selected to pitch for the Braves today at St. Petersburg, Fla., against Washington. Jimmy Welsh, outfielder, from the Pacific coast, has just joined the squad.

Another day of rain, kept the Red Sox idle yesterday at New Orleans. They play the New Orleans Pelicans tomorrow.

WASHINGTON—Clyde Manion, who during five seasons with the Detroit Americans spent most of his time on the bench warming up pitchers, is one of the leading contenders for a regular berth as a catcher among the batterymen of the Tigers working out at the Augusta, Ga., training camp. Manion was sent to the Toronto Internationals last season and while there has been said to have developed so well that last fall scouts reported him the best material for backstop Detroit could obtain.

ST. LOUIS—Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis visited the Cardinal training camp at San Antonio, Tex., yesterday and watched the Cards perform in a drizzling rain. The baseball commission is on his annual tour of the spring training camps. He commented that it is a "colorless spring," but added that he feels the calm precedes a season "in which many clubs will storm the heights of pennantville."
